

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air a political film a few days before an election would seem to be a clear example of abuse of public airways. It is an example of the erosion of democracy inherent when mega media consolidations are allowed.

Sinclair's actions show why the FCC needs to take a stronger role in regulating media ownership.